The Honeywell Center is a beautiful, block-long facility in historic downtown Wabash. Originally constructed in 1949, the building served as a community center for years and was eventually considered a prime venue for national performers.

In 1994, a 75,000 square foot addition was constructed that included a 1500 seat theater, restaurant, art gallery, and more.

Today, the Honeywell Center attracts more than 200,000 visitors annually and hosts proms, banquets, seminars, meetings, weddings, and the Kunkel Cruise-In. For information on upcoming concerts and events go to: www.honeywellcenter.org or call 260-563-1102

Friday night & Saturday lunch- 2 options - hamburgers & hotdogs on our outdoor plaza grill and menu dining inside Eugenia's Restaurant with a full soup & salad bar buffet, made to order pasta bar or order from our menu in our air conditioned restaurant with items ranging in price from $4-$9. Visit our website to view our full menu.

Cars are parked on the lots,
on the circle, in the street,
on the plaza & in the lobby.

ALS DIVISION

ALS is a rapidly progressive, fatal neuromuscular disease. It attacks the motor neurons responsible for transmitting electrical impulses from the brain to the voluntary muscles throughout the body. When these muscles fail to receive messages, they eventually lose strength, atrophy and die. There is no known treatment.
